At this year's Comic Con I had a chance to talk with Corey Feldman who was out promoting the P.O.S. LOST BOYS THE TRIBE (check out the full interview HERE). During the interview he had a chance to talk about a little horror flick he starred in called TERROR INSIDE. Today Jozef Lenders, the writer / director of TERROR INSIDE gave us an update on the film, which has yet to find a release date... until now.

TERROR INSIDE is set to premiere at this year's Fort Lauderdale International Film Festival on November 2nd at 2PM! If that isn't cool enough, then know that Feldman and his hot co-star Tanya Memme will be in attendance at the premiere, along with Lenders. Now how cool is that?

While Feldman downplayed his involvement in INSIDE, he really is the star of the movie--and from what I've heard, he actually does a pretty good job! Here's a little snippet from the director: I think Corey's fans will find his performance refreshing. He stepped out of the usual "Corey" persona and became an actor.

If that means we can expect something other than the usual Feldman that we normally see, then I'm all game! Hell--it has to be better than what he did in THE TRIBE, no? Apparently Feldman was even presented with Crystal Reel Award for Best Actor for his work on INSIDE (while Memme won for Best Actress and the film won Best Picture overall).

For more information on FLIFF, head over to its OFFICIAL WEBSITE, and while you're at it, check out the official site for TERROR INSIDE, featuring a few stills (like the awesome one below) from the film that may keep ya interested.

A horror movie where Feldman actually acts? Hell, I'd give it a try just for that! Word is it'll be hitting DVD sometime this winter, so keep it here for the announcement of when!
